

Clinical Quiz #2

A 10-month-old girl with HIV infection presents with prolonged fever, chronic diarrhea and massive lower GI bleeding. The colonoscopy reveals findings as below.

What is the most likely diagnosis?
Click for answer

Clinical Quiz #2

Ans: CMV colitis

The colonoscopic findings reveals multiple deep ulcers, predominantly at the left sided colon. The colonic mucosa also appears evidence of colitis, including erythema, edema, and friability.

Pthaigastro.org