

Clinical Quiz #5

A 3-year-old girl presents with bleeding per rectum for 1 year.
Colonoscopy reveals a mass at the cecum.

What is your diagnosis ?

Click for answers

Contributed by Nuthapong Ukarapol, MD. Chiang Mai University

Clinical Quiz #5

Diagnosis: Juvenile polyp

During the colonoscopy, there are also multiple pedunculated and sessile polyps noted along the entire colon, predominantly at the rectosigmoid and right-sided colon. The diagnosis of juvenile polyposis coli is made. Investigation in the family members is advised.

Pthaigastro.org